SCHOLARSHIPS ARE GIVEN TO HOPRICH, WENTZ

H. H. Sharp Makes Award
At Annual Alumni
Banquet Here

FOUR MEMBERS OF '78 CLASS PRESENT

Frederick M. Campbell Is Named President of Association

Two prominent members of the 1938 graduating class of Salem High school were awarded scholarships aggregating $600 at the 56th annual dinner and dance of the Salem High School Alumni association at the Masonic temple last night.

The recipients of the awards are Harold Hoprich, first honor graduate and editor of the weekly school publication, and Charles Wentz, honor graduate and president of his class.

Hoprich received $350, which, he said, he plans to use in furthering his education at Mt. Union college where he will take up pre-medical study next fall. Wentz, who plans to study engineering at Miami university, was awarded $250.

Class Gives $360
H. H. Sharp, 78, chairman of the scholarship committee, made the awards after accepting $360 from Wentz as the gift of the 1938 graduating class to the scholarship fund.

Sharp related the history of the scholarship fund, prior to his announcement of the awards. He revealed that the fund has given $9,425 in awards since its inception in 1908 and that of the 45 graduates who received scholarships all but four are still living and enjoying success.

Of the students who received awards, 14 girls and nine boys completed college education and are still studying in college. Sharp mentioned the success attained by several of the graduates who received scholarships, including Charles Burchfield, nationally famous water color artist; Mrs. Marion Cox, the former Miss Ella Smith, high school biology instructor, who wrote a new text book entitled, "Exploring Biology"; Joseph Marsilia, prominent singer; Clem Johnson, the Negro graduate who ever received a scholarship; and the Ford Motor Co.'s Charles Wilhelm, manager of the "Stage Door" Little Theater in Hollywood, Calif., and several others.

Explains His Work
A letter from Wilhelm, explaining his work as manager of the Little Theater which has become a proving ground for young movie stars, was read by Sharp. In the letter, Wilhelm stated he has had six of his own plays produced and expressed his appreciation of the scholarship award given him by the alumni body.

Two hundred members of the association attended the dinner, which preceded the program presented over by Walter F. Deming, retiring president. Class reunions were held prior to the dinner.

The oldest graduating class represented was 1878, which had four of its five surviving members present. They are: Dr. Mary White of Cleveland, Mrs. Flora Fawcett of Meadville, Pa. and H. H. Sharp.

"INSTALLMENT" TAXES ARE DUE

Whittemore contract Payments Are Estimated At $24,480

LISBON, June 11.—When property owners start paying taxes for the last half of 1937 on July 1 the total collections at the expiration of the deadline July 20 will be increased by $24,480.71 in Whittemore contract payments.

This amount is due at this time under contract terms, according to County Treasurer Olen Dawson. It represents delinquencies on real estate which may be paid in installments under a state law.

Current taxes must be settled before the contract payments may be accepted, Dawson states. Delinquencies on approximately 6,000 tracts of land in the county are being paid through the contracts. About 3,300 individuals have taken advantage of the act in this county.

The treasurer's office is arranging a new receiving plan which will facilitate payments. Cards carrying necessary data for quick reference will be available at the counters, speeding up handling of the contracts.

The Whittemore Act expired last December but was later renewed by the state legislature.

Copy or Original Pew Rent Receipt Will Be Preserved

Among the articles to be placed in the metal box during the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m. will be a photostatic copy of the original deed, or receipt for church pew No. 63, sold to Joseph A. Blackburn for $125. Money derived from such sales went to the building fund of the church in 1861.

Mary B. McCarty, E. H. McCarty and Armstrong McCarty of Salem are the grandchildren of Joseph A. Blackburn. The original of the receipt is owned by Marion A. Patrick of Santa Barbara, Calif., a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn.

Subscriptions for bricks to aid the current building program will be received at the high school up to 10 a. m. tomorrow. Names of those subscribing will go into the box.

PRODUCES ONLY PARTY CONTEST

Six Republicans In Field
For State Representative Nomination

Two hundred and fifty-one candidates qualified before the deadline last night for ticket places in the Republican and Democratic primary election in Columbiana county Aug. 9.

The last to file at the board of elections headquarters in East Liverpool was P. C. Armstrong of Elkton, Democratic candidate for county recorder. His entrance results in the only Democratic contest.

Nineteen Republicans will battle for five county office nominations. Two hundred and twenty-six seek 111 central committee places in each party organization.

Representative Post Popular

Seeking nomination for state representative are six Republicans and the Democratic incumbent, W. H. Daugherty of Wellsville. The Republicans are Paul Smith of Salem, G. Jay Clark and John P. Stephenson of East Liverpool, Harry McCamon of Center township, H. D. Cope of Rogers, John McBane Kerr of Yellow Creek township.

Those in the Republican county commissioner contest are Clarence L. Robinson of Lisbon, G. L. Applegate of Madison township, John E. Smith of St. Clair township, J. W. Bretz of New Waterford and James S. Rinehart of East Liverpool. Conrad Berg of Leetonia, Democratic incumbent, is unopposed.

Two Republicans and one Democrat filed for county engineer, an office in litigation since November, 1936.

Other Candidates

The entrants, besides those for representative and commissioner, are:
County engineer—J. C. Hassler of Middletown township and Charles O. Snyder of Salem, Republicans, and Robert S. Wheatley of Salmville, Democrat.

County auditor—Shelton J. Overdorf of East Liverpool, Frank Ballantini of Salem, Ray T. Adam and George Porter of Lisbon, Republicans, and Floss Fisher of East Liverpool, Democrat.

County recorder—Richard O. Wilson of East Liverpool and Frances Whitacre Morton of Wellsville, Republicans, and Mary C. Rabter of Wellsville, Democrat.

Lisbon Athletic Director Resigns

LISBON, June 11.—Phillip Biele, High school athletic director, tendered his resignation to the board of education Friday, terminating seven years' services here as sports mentor for the school. Biele stated in his resignation that he had decided to give up athletics and physical education work, devoting his time to academic subjects.

No action has been taken by board members on the resignation but a meeting is expected to be held next week to consider the matter. Several applications already have been received, board members stated.

Files $10,000 Suit For False Arrest

LISBON, June 11.—Charging false arrest, Charles D. Blazer of East Liverpool filed a $10,000 damage suit Friday in common pleas court, naming Basil Mangano, East Liverpool and Newell service station owner, as defendant in the action.

Blazer says in his petition that he signed a counter check for $75 on March 13, 1937, representing a payment on money owed the service station. Within a few days, the plaintiff asserts, he paid the full amount of the check but neglected to recover the voucher which, he says, the defendant retained.

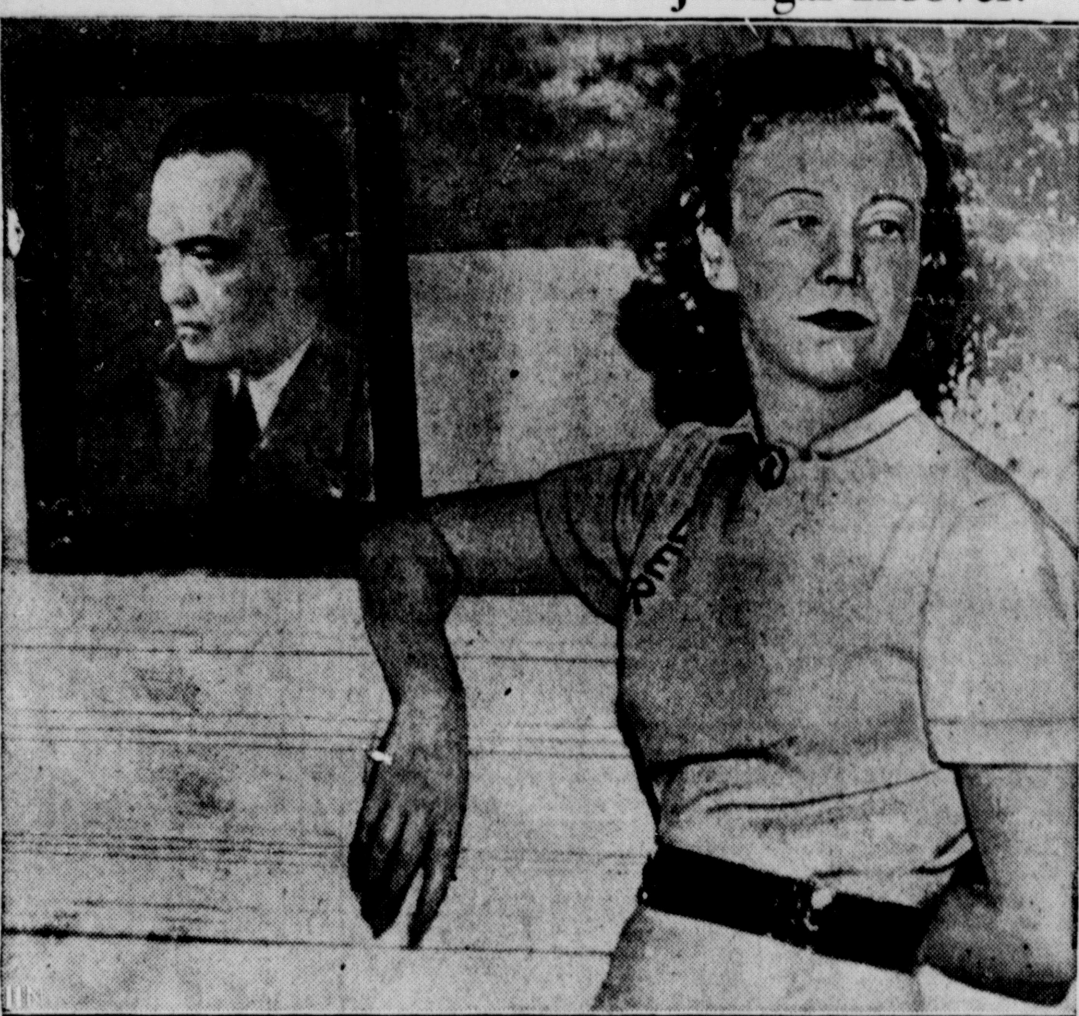

On March 21, 1938, Mangano altered the check, Blazer states, changing the date to March 13, 1938. On an affidavit sworn to by the defendant Blazer says he was arrested on a charge of writing a bad check and given a hearing before Justice of the Peace John W. Talbot, Hancock, W. Va.

At the hearing Blazer stated he attempted to prove the alteration in the check by microscopic examination but was not permitted to introduce this evidence. As a result he says he was obliged to pay $40 in cash with an agreement to pay the balance in installments.

The plaintiff characterized the affidavit resulting in his arrest as false and malicious and declared the arrest resulted in humiliation and damage to his reputation.

STATE AWAITS PARTY BATTLES

Legions of Candidates
In Field For Variety of Jobs

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, June 11.—Headed for the August primary elimination hurdle, legions of candidates were officially in the field today for state, federal and district jobs that Ohioans will pass out in the November election.

Sixty persons sought party designations on state-wide ballots for U. S. Senator, two congressmen-at-large, governor, four state offices and four supreme court posts after the filing deadline passed last night.

The 22 district congressional races attracted 117 aspirants while election boards reported the usual long list of candidates for state assembly posts would appear on the August 9 primary ballots.

Davey, Sawyer Battle

Gov. Martin L. Davey, asking Democrats to make him their candidate for a third term, was opposed by Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, Democratic national committeeman and former lieutenant governor.

The Republican challenger—John W. Bricker of Columbus—was again unopposed for nomination as he was in 1936.

But only four other statewide job-seekers were assured of a place on the November ballot, including: William J. Kennedy, secretary of state, Democrat; Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand and Supreme Court

Pasco Is Winner In Preliminaries At Canton Tourney

Bob Pasco, Salem city marbles champion, advanced to the finals in the Canton district tournament this morning in competition at Canton.

The large group of boys which assembled in Canton this morning from various districts were divided into approximately three leagues, given their marbles and told to "go to it."

Out of each of the leagues will emerge two boys for the final battles this afternoon.

Pasco won five straight, then dropped two and won one more for six victories and two losses and qualified as one of the entries from his league for the grand finals.

New Streamlined Pennsv Trains To Pass Through City

Salem people will see the Pennsylvania railroad's new streamlined trains speed through the city, commencing June 15.

The new "luxury liners on wheels" begin operating between New York and Chicago on that date. The new equipment marks the greatest step yet made in train design.

The Broadway Limited, which passes through Salem, will be the train on this section to go streamlined. It will make the New York-Chicago run in 16 hours against 16½ now.

F. R. Roach, local station agent, said the westbound Broadway Limited will pass through Salem at approximately 11 p. m. daily, while the eastbound Broadway Limited will speed through at 1:30 a. m.

The Broadway, like other "luxury liners" in the nation, will be an all bedroom train, with rooms ranging from the roomette for one to the master bedroom with connecting bath, which can be made part of an entire bridal suite.

Noted designers conceived the public cars, such as the restaurant, lounge and club cars. Each room has a telephone to restaurant, bar, valet and maid.

Collect Sales Tax On Sales of Candy

Despite decisions handed down in both Cuyahoga and Summit county common pleas courts this week, that candy is food and therefore not taxable under the Ohio three per cent retail sales tax, all merchants handling candy at retail should continue to collect the tax as in the past until this matter is finally determined by the supreme court of Ohio.

This was the warning sounded today by the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Charlton S. Dargusch, tax counsel for the merchants organization, points out that the opinion of the Summit and Cuyahoga county courts can only be regarded as binding in those counties. He also points out that even in Cuyahoga and Summit counties vendors of candy should continue collecting the tax until the supreme court rules.

Otherwise, if the decisions of common pleas courts are reversed, vendors will have to pay all taxes on candy on which they failed to collect.

THIRTEEN DEAD IN TEXAS STORM

40 or More Hurt, Two Score Homes Shattered
by Tornado

(By Associated Press)

CLYDE, Tex., June 11.—A slowly moving tornado killed 13 persons in this west Texas village of 700 last night, left several missing, injured at least 40 others and shattered two-score houses.

Weary volunteers searched the debris today, fearful that more bodies lay in the wreckage.

Doctors established emergency stations in stores and dressed wounds of the injured, some of whom entered to find the bodies of dead relatives on the floors.

Village Isolated

Clyde was isolated several hours when the tornado tore down communication lines, delaying calls for ambulances, doctors, nurses and volunteers from Abilene and other nearby towns.

The Red Cross mobilized its facilities and a detachment of the national guard set up a rolling kitchen.

Like a huge snake, the storm crept upon the town shortly after dusk. Many saw it coming and scrambled to safety inside storm cellars. Others gambled vainly that their houses would withstand the shock.

The wind split a freight train, tumbling box cars along the rails. At least one transient was killed. Some reports said three were hauled dead from the wreckage.

Fall Is Fatal To Greenford Woman

Mrs. Elizabeth Catherine Lang, 70, wife of Henry W. Lang of Greenford, died at 1:20 a. m. today at Salem City hospital of complications, resulting from a fall at her home May 7.

Mrs. Lang was born near Greenford and had spent practically all her life in that vicinity. She was a member of the Greenford Lutheran church, Women's Missionary society and Ladies' Aid society.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Stuart Umstead of Salem; one son, Albert of Greenford, three grandchildren, Robert and Jean Lang and Marjorie Umstead. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. J. R. Reichstadt of Greenford, four brothers, Alva and Freeman Hively, Salem, and John Hively of Leetonia and Samuel Hively, Goshen, Ind.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Greenford Lutheran church, in charge of Rev. E. O. Hill. Burial will be at Greenford.

Friends may call at the home in Greenford anytime after noon Sunday.

Flag Day Program Planned By Elks

The annual Flag day exercises will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Elks home here.

Atty. John Baucknecht of East Palestine will be the principal speaker. Other details in connection with the program are being worked out by members of the committee in charge.

GIRL STRANGLES ON TOY BALLOON

Three Salem Men In Ravenna Hospital After
Auto Crash

Two Columbiana county youths, a boy and a girl, were dead today as the result of peculiar accidents; while, in a hospital at Ravenna three Salem men lay injured as a result of a highway mishap.

The dead:
Donald Vogel, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Vogel of Wellsville; killed when he put his head out of a bus window as the vehicle passed close by a telephone pole in Steubenville.

Wilma Jean Smith, 9, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Williamsport; died of strangulation when a piece of toy balloon with which she was playing lodged in her throat.

Roy Yeager, 22, of 191 Jennings ave.; in Robinson Memorial hospital at Ravenna suffering from fractured skull, broken arm and nose and possible internal injuries; condition reported critical.

George Schneider Jr., 20, of 424 W. Fourth st., in same hospital with broken pelvis; condition reported fair.

Eugene Pestl Jr., 21, of 846 E. State st.; injuries not listed; condition reported fair.

Fritz Brantsch, 348 W. Fourth st., treated at hospital for leg cuts and dislocated.

Vogel, the Wellsville boy, was a member of the Wellsville High school band which had played at a Democratic rally in Steubenville. Shortly after the band members had boarded their bus for the return trip, he put his head out of a bus window. At the same time the bus turned a corner at Market and seventh sts. Struck by a telephone pole, the boy's skull was fractured.

Coroner Ray Slay of Steubenville opened an inquiry today. Joseph Scroggs of Gilmores crossing, on Route 30, was driver of the bus.

Wilma Jean Smith was pronounced dead when brought to East Liverpool City hospital last night after swallowing a piece of rubber balloon at her home.

According to reports, she had been playing with the balloon and after it burst she took a piece

SEWER PROBLEMS

Complaints from manufacturers and others because their properties are flooded every time there is a heavy rainfall, finally brought a proposal from the city engineer for a $250,000 sewers project. He proposed to city council that the city's entire drainage system be rebuilt and enlarged.

This was a gigantic proposal without details of plans for council to study. It was to be a WPA project, with the city sharing a portion of the expense. Councilmen were impressed but not satisfied that so much should be undertaken at once nor that the program had been worked out in advance. Manufacturers who sought relief were startled by such a big proposal and a study of conditions convinced them much of the trouble could be eliminated without rebuilding the whole sewer system.

Members of the sewers committee of council have been investigating the possibilities of relieving the condition at a minimum of expense. All who have surveyed the situation have discovered insufficient fall in creeks to permit rapid run-off from sewers emptying into them during heavy storms. Many believe the relief work should start at this point to give better drainage before larger sewers are built.

That part of the work could be done without waiting for a big sewer program to be worked out, approved and financed. It would offer much relief from flood waters although it might not eliminate the trouble. Much of the trouble in the "flats" comes from the pressure of flood waters in sewers blowing manhole lids off. Providing proper fall in the ditches into which sewers empty surely would relieve that condition.

In the meantime, while all these angles are being investigated, nothing is being done to give relief to one particularly bad condition. That is the one at the Electric Furnace plant. It is little wonder that this company made another demand of council this week that something be done. Relief could be provided at relatively small cost and the work would dovetail into any future sewers program. Why wait for another heavy storm to flood this plant?

MORMONS ON WPA

Economic self-sufficiency has been a point of Mormon pride since the founding of the church, one of the wealthiest in the United States today.

Its spokesmen insist it is able to care for all its members. None of them needs to ask for direct or for work relief. At the same time, the church knows they are asking for relief.

Heber J. Grant, president of the Mormon organization, says the lure of getting public money is proving more attractive than the church's teaching to some of its less frugal members. All we can do, he says, is to urge them to give an honest day's work for what they get.

The United States government is committed to the proposition that the hungry shall be fed and the needy cared for. This is an unassailable position for politicians to take. Unfortunately, it is unassailable only from the sentimental approach.

The only important long range effect of what has happened in this country the last five years will be that of profligate public spending. When even the Mormons, who make a virtue of self-sufficiency, complain of the desertion of their less frugal members to the public trough, it's plain that the weakening of moral fiber by "billionitis" is something more serious than a nightmare which Tories are charged with having for their own amusement.

IT'S NOT KIDNAPING

Quibbling over its name doesn't lessen the horror of the crime, but it's evident that kidnapping no longer denotes what used to be the crime of that name. Kidnaping is the act of carrying away a human being, usually a child. It is not murder.

Extortion always has been part of kidnapping, but murder used to be regarded as the exception. Even when the victim was not returned to his family after payment of ransom, it was easy to believe murder had not been committed.

Perhaps because of laws making kidnapping punishable by death, murder of a kidnap victim is the rule, not the exception today. Four of the seven child victims of the crime since 1932 have been killed outright.

This isn't kidnapping, but child murder, with extortion as a side line. Kidnaping, by comparison, is little more than a misdemeanor. A new, more horrible, crime has been invented.

FROM THE NEWS FILES

For Sunday, June 13

Sunday's horoscope is an auspicious one for affairs of the clergy, elders, property and solid investments. These show some encouraging gain in the way of security and stability. But there may be some anxiety in employment where superiors may be critical or exacting. In all matters it would be well to sidestep intrigues and curious or treacherous problems.

Those whose birthday it is may have opportunity for gaining much in the way of establishing their security and stabilizing their fortunes, either by industry, investment, property or the benefices of elders. But placate superiors and be wary of duplicity, secrecy and peculiar conditions.

A child born on this day may be serious, industrious, with sound ideas and ambitions. It may accumulate wealth through investments, property or possibly by trust insurance, inheritance or the favors of elders.

For Monday, June 13

Monday's astrological forecast is for a rather unsettled or disturbed state of affairs, although these may not be of major importance. There may be some unlooked-for change of a disquieting rather than formidable nature. A loss or strange contact of a disagreeable tone may prove irritating. But offsetting this there may be harmony, happiness and probably emotional or social gratification.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of much activity, happiness and gratification in their domestic, social, artistic or affectional lives. In business there may be an irritating or perplexing situation caused by a strange or unorthodox adventure, with enmity or malice possible.

A child born on this day may have much solidity of character, and be serious, studious, responsible and hard working. Its rewards may come in the confidence of its friends and intimates who may assist in its substantial success and accumulations.

EUROPE FACES ANOTHER WEEKEND OF JITTERS

(By Associated Press)

Europe headed into another set of weekend jitters today by renewed attacks on Czechoslovakia in the controlled German press and a new bursting in Czechoslovakia on the eve of the last of a series of communal elections.

The central European rumbling came close to drowning out the sounds of war in Spain and the Orient.

A Spanish insurgent spearhead had been thrust through fierce government resistance to within eight miles of Castellon De La Plana, principal barrier to conquest of Valencia.

On the other side of the world, Japanese gunboats started a Yangtze river drive on Hankow, provisional Chinese capital, to support an infantry thrust from tottering Chengchow, 300 miles north of Hankow.

The Chinese were waging a desperate rearguard battle to delay Japanese occupation of Chengchow and the overland drive on Hankow. Apparently speaking the mind of its Nazi masters, Berlin morning newspapers banner-lined the situation between the Czechoslovak government and the clamorous German minority which Adolf Hitler had vowed to "protect."

Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter unscored in red this headline: "Moscow's fist over Phaha, thrashing orgy of Czech soldiery." Other newspapers, also pegging their charges on disorders between Czechoslovak forces and Sudeten Germans, struck a similar note in their headlines:

"Czech terror becomes unbearable."

"Czech sadism rampant."

"Sudeten Germanism under the knotted whip of Praha soldiery."

Czechoslovakia took precautions to preserve, order in tomorrow's voting equal to those of May 22 and May 29, the previous Sundays of voting, the first of which brought ominous troop movements on both sides of the Czechoslovak-German border.

A member of the Czechoslovak army general staff broadcast yesterday that any invasion would face "a chain of machine-gun nests along our border."

Meanwhile, Britain, backed by France against aerial "piracy" stemming from the Spanish war, hunted a way of halting insurgent attacks on British and French shipping without offending Hitler and Premier Mussolini, Nazi and Fascist allies of the insurgents.

Air raids on the eastern Spanish coast continued. Alicante, already a city of ruins with more than 2,000 casualties in two weeks of insurgent bombardments, was bombed again but there were no full reports on the new assault.

France prepared to demonstrate the solidarity of the French-British democratic "axis" in entertaining King George, Queen Elizabeth and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax for four days, starting June 28.

Inclusion of Halifax raised the occasion to one of greater diplomatic importance.

France at the same time laid plans for a military alliance with Turkey to gain a dominant position in the eastern Mediterranean in case of war, now that the two nations had opened negotiations for settlement of long-standing difficulties over the district of Alexandretta in French-mandated Syria.

PLEURISY

At this time of the year pleurisy seems unusually prevalent. Undoubtedly sudden changes in weather, exposure to cold and dampness, fatigue, inadequate rest, neglect of the simple cold—all these are factors that have to do with attacks of pleurisy.

For some reason difficult to understand, pleurisy has always been a neglected disease. This is unfortunate because there is a danger of serious complications. Perhaps the fact that many persons rely upon home remedies and self-treatment has much to do with our failure to get competent advice.

Modern medical science has made us realize that pleurisy is really a serious and not a trivial affliction. In fact, most authorities now believe that repeated attacks of pleurisy should arouse suspicion that something is radically wrong with the lungs.

As its name indicates, pleurisy is an inflammation of the pleura, the thin membrane that lines the chest cavity. This membrane has two layers, one covering the inside of the bony framework of the chest and the other covering the lungs.

In this membrane are found certain cells which secrete a lubricant, permitting the lungs to expand and relax without any difficulty. The two layers of the pleura slide over each other without friction.

Set Up Inflammation
If germs reach the pleura they set up an inflammation in the membrane. It becomes roughened and the normal movements of the lungs are difficult. This is pleurisy. The victim usually has a dry, hacking cough. He complains of pain in deep breathing and, in a severe case, there is great discomfort in shallow breathing.

As I have said, pleurisy may be low a common cold or some other infection of the breathing apparatus. But sometimes one may be bed feeling perfectly well and during the night or upon arising will become conscious of severe pain in the chest.

The pain is less, as I have suggested, when the depths of breathing in and out are restrained. This is a sign which is usually in the beginning of an attack. It should always arouse a suspicion that pleurisy exists. If you do suspect that the pleural cavity is involved, your doctor should be consulted once.

There are various forms of pleurisy, but neglect of any may lead to the accumulation of pus in the chest cavity and other serious complications. Immediate medical treatment will ward off an uncomfortable illness.

Putting Money
In the Right Place

It has been said that failure indicates that energy was poured into the wrong channel.

It is quite likely that many financial failures are caused by putting money in wrong places, particularly in speculative investments.

Our past record would indicate that THE HOME is a good place to save.

I na half a century no losses to anyone who has kept his money here.

And THE HOME has paid from 3% up annually for nearly fifty years.

No wonder so many people say, "we're putting our eggs in THE HOME basket".

Today's Pattern

DAYTIME WEAR Pattern 4812

There is quite a "ratt" on this Anne Adams pattern, by Career Girls and Housewives, who want home frocks that they can wear playing tennis. Housewives know it's the crisp type of dress that their husbands like to see across the breakfast table. Career Girls revel in the coolness of the short sleeves and flared skirt for office wear. The yoke or pockets may contrast with or match the rest of the dress, and buttons and rick-rack band make colorful accents on a tub fabric. (Try white rick-rack on white cotton or linen for a tennis frock.)

Pattern 4812 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric; 3 1/2 yards rick-rack. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions are included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (cents preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly: NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Dress up for Summer! Order your copy of the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK immediately. Learn how to have a smart warm-weather wardrobe that's fashion-right, economical, easy to make! Planning a vacation? See the active and sporty sports outfits, afternoon sheers, evening finery! Staying home? Have flatteringly perky frocks and gay sun-styled flatters for bride and graduate. ...cottons for Tot and Junior! PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PRICE OF PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. ## Seek Pay Raise COLUMBUS, June 11. — State highway patrolmen today had Gov. Martin L. Davey's promise that he would ask the current special session of the legislature to raise their salaries.

At the annual inspection of the patrol the governor said he would recommend the monthly wages of starting officers be advanced from $100 to $110 a month and that $45 monthly maintenance expenses be paid directly to patrolmen.

Plan Camp Trip

LISBON, June 11. — Twenty-five Lisbon girl scouts will leave Sunday, June 26 for a week's outing at Camp Sandoneida in Stark county.

The girls are financing the trip from money earned during winter months and spring months. The camp is located near Malvern on a stream, permitting boating, swimming and other water sports.

PALO ALTO, Cal. — Paleontologists and geologists have a remarkable latitude in which to disagree. N. L. Tallafiero of the University of California argues that recent researches place the creating of the San Andreas fault, of California, one of the greatest earth rifts in the world, at about one million years ago. Other authorities placed it at 55,000,000 years ago.

NORTH TURNER, Me. — Postal authorities know that the mail will go through when Mrs. Helen E. McAllester, mother of five children, sets out daily on a 14-mile round trip rural free delivery route. For five years she has delivered the mail in storm and flood without missing one day.

"CONTRABAND" by Dennis Wheatley

SYNOPSIS

When Gregory Sallust first saw the girl, in the Casino at Deauville, it was near midnight on the last day of the young Englishman's leisurely tour through Normandy. Sallust, a former Intelligence officer, is now confidential investigator for a great British commercial corporation. The girl, tall and beautiful, came into the gaming room accompanied by a strange little man, not a dwarf yet curiously ill-proportioned, whom Gregory recognized as a sinister figure in international affairs. When, at midnight, the girl left the Casino alone, Sallust followed her. She meets a man in aviator's togs and the two are trailed by Gregory to a room above a cheap cafe, where the man is attacked by three hoodlums. Gregory helps him escape. Gregory then takes the girl, Sabine, to his hotel to save her from police questioning. There he asks her the meaning of the coded telegram he found in a black note-case on the floor of the cafe room after the fight. While they are talking her odd little companion, calls Sabine on the telephone, telling her the coast is clear for her to return to him. Gregory tries to get Sabine to admit that the thugs who attacked the man, a Scotland Yard officer, were in her friend's employ. She warns him that it is sometimes dangerous to know too much.

CHAPTER IV

"A threat, eh? Come, that's ungenerous, since you'd be in the Deauville police station at this moment if I hadn't got you out of that cafe. More, it's rank ingratitude when I propose to keep you here all night to save you from arrest. Remember, the man who your friend's thugs tried to do in was an officer from Scotland Yard. When our special branch men operate on the continent they always keep in touch with the local police, so if he has escaped he will have made his report by now—given your description—and the authorities will be wanting you pretty badly."

For a moment she was silent, then with a little sigh she sat down on the arm of a low chair. "I am so tired," she murmured, passing her hand across her eyes. "Perhaps you are right Monsieur, but it is unpleasant that you should take advantage of my situation."

He smiled, one of those rare warm smiles which could at times make his grim face so attractive, and laid a hand on her shoulder.

"Don't worry, please," he said softly. "I hope we are going to see quite a lot of each other in the future, so the last thing I want is to make you think me a bore. I only want to help you. I'm sure it's best for you to stay here the night, though. You can have my bed and I'll shake down with some cushions and the elderdown in the bathroom. We'll talk things over in the morning."

She nodded slowly, not doubting for an instant that he meant exactly what he said.

Gregory made a practice of never being called and usually slept late in the morning. But at half past eight the bathroom door opened and Sabine put her dark head round the corner.

As his eyes opened he stared at her in bewilderment, then the events of the few hours before flooded back to him and he sat up. "I am so sorry if I disturb you," she said, "but I have been awake a long time and I am hungry; also, I would like a bath."

"Right! Give me ten minutes, please, and I'll see what we can do about some breakfast. Feeling better this morning?"

"A lot, thank you." She smiled and shut the door.

He shaved his lean face with quick sure strokes, brushed his tumbled hair, slipped on his dressing gown, and then joined her in the bedroom.

Her evening dress and stockings were still lying over a chair and she sat perched on the edge of the bed, muffled up in her big fur coat.

"I've turned on the bath," he told her, "so in you go, and don't come out before I call you. In the meantime I'll order breakfast. What would you like, just coffee and rolls, or something more sustaining?"

"May I have some melon, also an omelette—I think."

"You little glutton," he laughed, "of course you may, but we'll have to eat it off one set of plates, or else they'll tumble to it that I've got a visitor. Run along now and when you hear the waiter come in, mind you stop splashing."

As she left him, carrying away her clothes, he gave the order by telephone, and a quarter of an hour later the floor waiter appeared with the dishes and coffee upon a tray. He was accompanied by a porter carrying a cabin trunk, which he set down carefully as he said, "this has just arrived, Monsieur. I was ordered to bring it up to you at once."

When the men had gone Gregory examined the trunk. It was addressed to him and he found it unlocked. On opening it, he saw a note inside. It read:

"Dear Mr. Sallust:

I trust that you have taken care of my little friend, Sabine. Some people in my position might find grounds for serious annoyance in her desertion of me, but at my age I can afford to be tolerant towards the escapades of young people. I only hope she was not disappointed in you.

Now that this little frolic is over, however, she will naturally wish to return to my care at the earliest possible moment. To facilitate that end I send under your name a complete outfit of her day clothes. Should she fail to rejoin me by noon I shall consider you lacking in appreciation of the courtesy I have extended to you and proceed to teach you a sharp lesson in good manners.

I do not sign this as Sabine will know from whom it comes.

Gregory grinned. He did not need to ask Sabine from whom the letter had come, and knowing something of the sender he felt that the veiled threat was by no means an empty one. Yet he had no intention of truckling to it.

Sabine joined him a few moments later, clad now in her evening dress and looking beautiful but slightly incongruous in the bright morning sunshine which was now streaming through the window.

Breakfast proved a gay and pleasant meal. They had to drink from the single cup and shared the melon and omelette with the happy laughter that springs from quick mutual attraction. All the distrust she had shown of him the previous night had disappeared.

When the meal was over he waved a hand towards the trunk, saying nothing of the note which had come with it. "You had better change now, I think. Into day clothes, while I have a bath and get dressed myself. But what shall we do afterward? How would you like to spend the day?"

She became grave at once. "I must get back and rejoin my friend. Otherwise he will be angry and when he is angry it is not good."

"Listen," Gregory leaned forward eagerly and took her hands. "If you wish to do so, you are perfectly free to walk out of this room now. From the beginning I've never had the least intention of turning you over to the police. I'm sure you know that, but if you go now I may never see you again. All I'm asking is for another hour or two with you. This is the last day of my holiday. I'm returning to England this evening by the five o'clock boat. Won't you be very sweet and kind, risk a spot of trouble with the old man, and spare me a few hours today? Just long enough to drive somewhere and lunch together in the sunshine. I'll have you back in Deauville and safe at home by four o'clock. I promise."

"You have been kind—and generous," she hesitated a second. "But this may be most dangerous for you."

"Danger has never stopped me doing anything I wanted to yet, nor you my dear. We're two of a kind and thrive on it—be honest now—are we?"

"C'est vrai," she said softly. "All right then, I will do as you wish, but the consequences—they must be upon your own head."

Rainer Divorced; Clashing Careers Story Re-enacted

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Dany eyed Lube Rainer of Vienna, who acted as a forlorn wife so well in the movie academy gave her the awards, today sought a divorce from the playwright from the Bronx, Clifford Odets.

Back of the filing of her suit was Hollywood's eternal hazard domestic happiness—career versus marriage.

Miss Rainer, who charged cruelty, also declared that Odets, author of "Golden Boy," one of the screen's biggest stage hits, insisted that she give up her acting because he felt there should be no career only in the family.

Curly-haired, bespectacled Odets who is five years older than his year-old wife, is enroute to London, England, to supervise the production there of "Golden Boy."

The marriage lasted 17 months.

As unhappy Anna Held in "The Great Ziegfeld" in 1935 and "The Good Earth" in 1937, Miss Rainer achieved the unprecedented honor of two successive awards from the Motion Picture Academy of Art and Sciences.

Thousands are fleeing Hankow, temporary capital of China, as Japanese troops push their advance toward the key city, forcing Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to abandon the eastern half of the fortified Lungtai railway line and set up new defenses along a mountain range between the Lungtai and Hankow. At the same time, repeated air raids on Canton, south Chinese port, left this city devastated and took nearly 3,000 lives besides wounding 8,000 others. It was feared these bombings were preliminary to Japanese occupation of Canton on which the British crown colony of Hongkong, down the Pearl river, depends for its existence.

Bill Dickey Is Sparkplug Of Yankees, Replacing the Great Babe As Pace-Setter

With Dickey In Lineup, Yanks Show Power; Clouts Two Homers Yesterday To Spark Champions To 8-2 Victory Over Cleveland

By SID FEDER

Back in the Ruthian era of swat, they used to say that as the Babe goes, so go the Yankees.

The Babe is gone now, "doing" his baseball from a box near the visiting dugout, but the Yankees haven't stopped—because another cannon is booming. This one is Sweet William Dickey. When he's around, the Yankees travel in high gear, and when he's missing, monkey wrenches show up all through the machinery.

Dickey uses the same procedure as Ruth to bring the Yanks back into any given ball game. It's a smash into "Ruthville," that section of the right field stands equipped for long-range target practice.

One of the major reasons the Yanks are 2½ games out of first place right now is because Bill was on the hospital list for six games. And the Yanks dropped four of 'em.

Bill came back yesterday for the start of the important series with Cleveland's Indians, and all he did was clout two homers to spark the Yanks to an 8-2 victory. In addition, he used all his catching tricks to carry Lefty Gomez over the rough spots, and El Goofy, after surviving one bad inning, pitched one of his best games of the year, a seven-hitter.

That shaved a full game off the Indians' league lead, and, since Boston's Red Sox absorbed a woeful wallop at the hands of the Chicago White Sox, 15-2, the Yanks were left in sole possession of second place. The White Sox unloaded, 20 hits, Monte Stratton smashing a homer with the bases loaded and Mike Kreevich clouting two round-trippers.

Over in the National League, meantime, only two games got by old man weather. Prince Hal Schumacher allowed just three runners to pass first base, and the Giants clubbed the Cardinals 3-1, stratching their National League lead to two full games over the Chicago Cubs, whose tilt with the Dodgers was rained out. Hugh (Losing Pitcher) Mulcahy fooled the folks and won one, tossing the Phillies to a 3-2 decision over the Pirates. Rain also ruined the Bees-Reds encounter in Cincinnati.

Buck Newsom fanned eight and pitched the St. Louis Browns to an 8-4 win over the Athletics. The Detroit Tigers outlasted the Senators to come through, 7-6, in 10 innings.

Motorcycle Aces To Vie At Rogers

Several Salem cyclists are expected to attend the Youngstown Cycle club's 10th anniversary hill climb four miles south of Rogers on Route No. 7 Sunday. Events will start at 1:30 p. m.

The hill is 340 feet long and rises at an angle of 45 degrees. More than 3,000 persons saw last year's climb and an even larger crowd is expected this year.

Entries are in from New York to California including such stars as: Windy Lindstrom of Oakland Calif., the Wellacher brothers of Rochester, N. Y., Dave Majeski of Youngstown, Ralph Moore of Indianapolis, Ind., Lyle Pote of Pontiac, Mich., and twenty five other equally well known hill climbers.

The record for the hill is almost sure to be broken.

BUCCOS BOOKED FOR TWO TILTS

Pittsburgh to Play Philadelphia In Double Header Sunday

PITTSBURGH, June 11—Winding up their present stay at the home grounds, the Pirates will put on a big bargain double-header at Forbes field in Pittsburgh Sunday afternoon, with the Philadelphia club as the visiting foe. It will be the first Sunday double-header of the Pittsburgh season, and the last chance to see the Bucs in action at home until June 28.

The first game will start at 2 o'clock. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, in accordance with the Sunday sports law of Pennsylvania, which prohibits play before 1 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The extra contest is one postponed from May 11.

Jimmy Wilson's team always is a source of trouble to the Pirates. Last year the season's series of 22 games ended in an even break. The Quakers have an entire outfield of 300 hitters this year in Klein, Martin and Anovich, and recently they added another batting threat in George Stainback, former Cub and Cardinal. Justin Stein, an infielder from Columbus, is another new addition.

The Phils usually exploded some fireworks at Forbes field. It was there that Chuck Klein equaled the major league record on July 10, 1936, by making four home runs in one game, a feat accomplished previously by only three other players—Bob Love, Ed Delahanty and Lou Gehrig.

Following an open date next Monday, the Pirates will begin an Eastern invasion, playing in New York June 14, 15 and 16; single games June 17 and 18 and a double-header on the 19th in Philadelphia; a night game in Brooklyn on June 21 and an afternoon contest June 23, and finally three tilts in Boston June 24, 25 and 26.

On Monday, June 27, the Bucs will appear in a big charity exhibition game at McKeesport, for the benefit of McKeesport Hospital.

IRISH CAPTURE ROCKNE TROPHY

Win Central Collegiate Track and Field Meet For First Time

MILWAUKEE, June 11—Notre Dame university, by virtue of a 37-point victory in the 13th annual central collegiate conference track and field championships, held possession of the Knute Rockne memorial trophy today for the first time since its establishment in 1933.

One native American record and six meet records fell last night as the Irish won the trophy commemorating their late famous football coach over the greatest field assembled in the history of the event.

Outstanding individual performance was by Larry Bell, senior engineering student of Miami university of Oxford, Ohio, who heaved the javelin 231 feet, 7 1-4 inches during the afternoon trials to break all existing marks set by native Americans. The best previous distance was the collegiate set by Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons college of Texas in 1937.

Second place went to Michigan State college, with 28 points, Pittsburgh was third with 27½ points; Wisconsin, fourth, with 25½; Rice Institute and Texas, tied for fifth place with 17; Marquette, seventh with 16½, and Miami eighth with 11.

O-E WINS, 5 TO 4 FROM STOGIES

Power Men Move Into Top Berth As Result Of Upset

The Ohio Edison downed the Scott Stogies, 5 to 4, and the Salem News blanked the Trades Class, 7-0, in Class A league battles last night.

The former tilt provided the sensation of the evening. Both the Stogies and the Ohio Edison nines went into the game with unblemished records. As a result of their victory, Ohio Edison moved into first place.

The Stogies got off to a three-run start in the first frame and added another in the second. The Ohio Edison shoved one across in the opening frame and added another in the second.

Trailing going into the third, they whacked the ball hard to score three runs and take a lead from which they were never dislodged.

The Newsies had a comparatively easy time with the Trades Class. They scored six of their seven runs in the opening inning.

The Methodists defeated the Presbyterians, 9 to 2, and the Emmanuel shut out the Baptists, 6-0, in the Church league.

Henry Picard Holds Lead In Open Golf Tournament; Finals Scheduled For Today

60 Survivors of Elimination Rounds Seek National Golf Title In 36-Hole Play; No Outstanding Favorite Left In the Field

By RUSS NEWLAND

DENVER, June 11—When the sun rolls over the Rockies late today they'll be crowning the 1938 National Open golf champion.

The big show will be over, unless of course, a 72-hole tie re-sets the stage for a play-off. Such an anti-climax has not taken place since the memorable battle between Billy Burke and George Von Elm in 1931. Burke won at the end of 72 extra holes, a world's record.

One guess was about as good as another as the field of 60 battle-worn survivors marched off for final 36-hole skirmishes with par, uncertain weather, their own temperaments and a mighty tough course known as Cherry Hills.

The push over the half-way mark saw the advantage, slight as it was, hitchhiking a ride with slender, straight shooting Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa.

Picard coupled two fine 70's, good enough to set the pace when time to whittle the field to the 60 low scores arrived.

Observers, who in the past have been taking it on the chin by poor guesses, hesitated to hop on any one of the first nine leaders. It was Picard or Dick Metz; Harold McSpaden, Emery Zimmerman, Defending Champion Ralph Guldahl; Jimmy Hines, Harry Cooper, Olin Dutra or Willie Hunter and take your choice.

Seventeen equaled or shaded par figures in the second round compared to three super-performances on the preceding day. Softer greens today meant better scores.

As they swung into the third stage of the battle, Metz, good in golf as well as looks and from Chicago, was on Picard's heels. He had a three-under-par 66 and total 141. McSpaden, from Boston, and the Portland, Ore., "dark horse,"

Emery Zimmerman, were well on the pace with 142. Defending Champion Guldahl, at 144, considered himself in a fine spot to repeat.

Ohioans who qualified were: Billy Burke, Cleveland, 75-79-154; Ray Mangrum, Dayton, 77-77-154.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Ed Don George, 226, North Java, N. Y., and Steve (Crusher) Casey, 332, Ireland, drew (one fall each, curfew ended bout).

NORTH BERGEN, N. J.—Jack League, 218, Texas, and Bibber McCoy, 234, Boston, drew, 23-34 (both counted out).

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Jim London, 202, Greece, defeated Jim McMillen, 220, Antioch, Ill., two straight falls.

DES MOINES, Ia.—Bronko Nagurski, 232, International Falls, Minn., threw Al Bisignano, 225, Des Moines, 38-54.

SAN JOSE, Cal.—Jesus Maria Andasola is willing to bet that the former Kaiser will never pass his woodchopping record. Andasola, Mexican resident here, celebrated his 101st birthday by cutting and carrying in his regular day's supply of wood for fuel.

Seeks Relief For Mine Communities

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Congressman Lawrence Imhoff announced today he was taking up with Ohio Works Progress Administration officials the problem of providing adequate relief for eastern Ohio mining communities where suspended operations have left many families destitute.

"These families need WPA work and also need garden seeds to replace those lost last spring because of later freezes," Imhoff declared.

Cadiz, Smithfield, Florence and Bradley are among communities affected.

Imhoff also announced acceptance of an invitation to address postmasters of the 18th Ohio Congressional district and their wives at a convention at Cadiz, June 25.

in the case of Mrs. Anna Legare of North Tona-wanda, indicted for the abduction of four-year-old Betty Jane Hobbs.

DEATHS

MRS. NETTIE GORDON CARR
NEW WATERFORD, June 11.— Mrs. Nettie Gordon Carr, 71, formerly of New Waterford, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E.
L. Kirby, in Canton Thursday night.

Mrs. Carr was born in New Waterford, July 20, 1866, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson.
She was a member of the Columbiana Christian church.

Besides her daughter she leaves two sons, Ray and Lee Gordon of Lestonia; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Baker of Ingram, Pa., and Mrs.
Mary Hauptman of New Waterford and two grandchildren.

Funeral will be held in the Warrick funeral home in Columbiana at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in charge of Rev. George Funk, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in the New Waterford cemetery.

Friends may call at the Warrick funeral home tonight.

JOHN ANDREWS FUNERAL

of it an attempted to blow a small bubble. Somehow she sucked in on the piece and it stuck in her throat.

She was born in Homestead, Pa., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Smith.

The body was removed to the Warwick funeral home at Colum-biana where the funeral service will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday. Rev. H. W. Middleton will be in charge. Burial will be in Clarkson cemetery.

According to hospital and police reports, the Salem men were injured when their car, driven by Yeager, struck a culvert on Route 14, one-half mile northwest of Edinburgh, at 5:15 a. m. today.

The accident is believed to have occurred when Yeager fell asleep while driving. Brantsch, who is now home, said the rest of the fellows were asleep in the car at the time. They were traveling toward Salem.

Brantsch freed himself from the wreckage, signalled down a passing truck driver, and together they extricated the others.

of Salem.

Announcement was made by Eugene Young, retiring vice president, of the new officers and committees of the association elected at the annual meeting of the organization at the High school building Friday afternoon.

F. M. Campbell President
Frederick M. Campbell was named president, succeeding Deming. Other officers and committees named are: First vice president, Mr. Frank Brian; second vice president, James Patton; treasurer, Orin Naragon; secretary, Mrs. Glenn Whinnery.

Executive committee—Jack Ballantine, Emerson Smith, Willis Hole, Kenneth Jones, Miss Martha Krauss and Miss Myra Irwin.

Nominating committee—A. E.
Beardmore, Mrs. D. Eugene Parks
and Mrs. Hannah Maule.

Rev. Eugene Charles Beach, pastor of the First Christian church of Youngstown, was named president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity of 10,000 members, gave the principal address, using as his subject, "The Sun Went Down at Noon."

An interesting and dynamic speaker, Rev. Beach explained his topic with the expressions that "many of us are failing to live all of our lives" and "most of us to some degree are failing to get out all that is in us."

He cited several examples of men who had not received the full benefits of their lives and suggested three things to do in order to make the most of life: (1) adopt an attitude of humbleness,
(2) get away from the world from time to time and enjoy relative isolation and (3) stress discipline rather than take the easy way out.

Roses," "Sylvia" and "Play the Game for Salem." Ollman sang two songs, "Because" and "The Jolly Roger."

Following the dinner, alumni members enjoyed dancing to the music of Arthur White's orchestra.
Music during the dinner was furnished by a Salem High school ensemble.

Personal Taxes
May Be Paid On Installment Plan

LISBON, June 11.—Delinquent personal property tax payers are eligible with real estate owners for Whittmore Act contracts, according to County Treasurer Olen Dawson.

The treasurer pointed out this fact in connection with a drive to collect approximately $120,000 in delinquent personal property taxes now carried on the office books.
Letters mailed to those in arrears by Prosecutor Karl Stouffer have resulted in the collection of several thousand dollars.

"Comparatively few people realize that the provisions of the act apply also to personal arrangements," Dawson commented. "By circulating this information we may be able to add materially to the collection of these delinquencies."

Under provision of the contracts, tax payers may meet their delinquent obligations in ten installments. The terms also provide for the remission of penalties incurred prior to January 1, 1937. Current taxes must be paid before the contract is valid.

Collection of general property taxes for the last half of 1937 will open July 1. The books will be closed July 20 with no extension allowed.

Charleroi Woman
Put On Probation

LISBON, June 11.—Nell Western, alias Lorah Norman of Charleroi, Pa. was placed on probation for one year Friday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones when she entered a plea of guilty to an old indictment charging her with larceny.

The woman was brought here from the Marysville reformatory where she is serving a sentence on another charge meted out by a Belmont county court. She will be released within a few days from the institution.

The Columbiana county indictment charges her with taking $300 in money, two diamond rings and a lady's wrist watch from Mrs.
Heleen Ankrim Moore of East Liverpool in a confidence "racket."
The offense occurred Aug. 7, 1931, according to the indictment.

Homer Regal of Salem, arrested on an information filed by Prosecutor Karl Stouffer, also was placed on probation for a year Friday afternoon when he entered plea of guilty to a charge of abandoning a pregnant woman.

Theater Attractions

Errol Flynn as Robin Hood and Olivia De Havilland as Maid Marian in "Adventures of Robin Hood" at the State Sunday through Tuesday

A splendid cast will be seen in the new technicolor film, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," which will be the State theater attraction Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Errol Flynn is seen as Robin
Hood, the outlaw of Sherwood forest;
Olivia De Havilland as Maid Marian, his sweetheart; Basil Rathbone as the villainous Sir Guy of Ginsbourne; Claude Rains as the equally villainous Prince John; Patric Knowles as Will Scarlet; Eugene Pallette as Friar Tuck; Ian Hunter as King Richard; Alan Hale as Little John.

Others in the cast are Una O'Connor, Herbert Mundin, Melville Copper, Montagu Love, Robert Warwick and Leonard Woolf.

One of The Classics
The tales of Robin Hoods adventures, handed down through centuries from legends of early England, have been among the classics for adults as well as children for many years.

Leader of a stalwart band of Saxons, including picturesque characters like Will Scarlet, Little John, and Friar Tuck, the gallant Robin Hood charged through Sherwood forest robbing and humbling the rich to feed the poor and oppressed.

Once a Saxon noble, now a hunted outlaw, Robin Hood sought fighting and adventure, "ever ready to take up crossbow for king, country or maiden fair."

Following the "Adventures of Robin Hood" the State will feature on Wednesday a Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Swiss Miss," with Della
Lind, Eric Blore and Walter Woolf
King.

John Boles and Madge Evans, Bruce Cabot and Marion Martin have the leading roles in the State's Thursday only film, "Sinners in Paradise."

Sequel to the popular "Hardy Family" series (which included "A Family Affair" and "You're Only Young Once") is the comedy "Judge
